Introduction Paragraph

1. What is your thesis argument? Be sure it is concise, explicit, and fully developed.

    _____

    _____

    _____

2. What are your three prompt keywords?

3. What are your three thesis keywords?

4. What is your premise definition for language?

    _____

    _____

5. What is your premise definition for technology?

    _____

    _____

6. What is your primary source? Use proper formatting according to MLA guidelines.

    _____

    _____

    _____

7. Why is this your primary source? Why is it particularly inspiring, interesting, provocative, and/or relevant for you to write about?

    _____

    _____

Body Paragraphs

8. What are your FIVE supporting reasons? Be sure your reasoning is well-thought out, independent from each other, and clearly supportive of your thesis.

   I. _____

   _____

   II. _____

   _____

   III. _____

   _____

   IV. _____

   _____

   V. _____

   _____

9. What are your supporting reasons keywords? Circle them in your sentences above.

10. What is your evidence from your primary source for each of your supporting reasons? Discuss with your partner.

    Are your analyses (explanation and discussion about your evidence) thorough, clear, and complete?

Evidence

11. What are your THREE secondary sources? Use proper formatting according to MLA guidelines.

    _____

    _____

    _____

    _____

    _____

    _____

    _____

12. What is particularly helpful about each of these sources? Discuss with your partner.